OTHER RESEARCHERS

From Dee Appleby, Appleby Heritage, Sept 99:

Hezekiah and Margaret were married by Pastor D. Brown. Their bondsman was David McCurdy. The dates and info are from the old Bible.

In a history by Goodspeed, an account reads that during the early part of the war Hezekiah left home for Texas on account of trouble (civil war) at home. During 1864, Margaret, who had stayed in Arkansas, lost her home to fire, got on a horse and went to Texas only to find Hezekiah had died. A second account said Hezekiah was sick, Margaret learned about it and got there before Hezekiah died. We do not know where they were in Texas, but suspect, since reading "Unbroken Circle" that they may have been in Upshur Co. Texas with her family.

From Wilma Lea (Appleby) Griffith,(1987) "I have the old family Bible that belonged to Hezekiah and Margaret (Herron) Appleby. It was severely damaged back during the civil war days, but even so the inner portion of the Bible is in fair condition. Some of the family records were clipped out therefore destroying a genealogist's dream of a find, but that is past and cannot be changed. The family story has always been told me that bushwhackers set fire to the family home during the war and in trying to remove things from the burning house someone took the old Bible out of the house and placed it on the gate post. During the night it rained and wet the Bible down thoroughly and it was pretty badly damaged. Someone took the Bible on the trip with them to Texas and now it is here with me. My father has always said his grandmother, Susan Jane Appleby, probably was senile and destroyed the family records. However, I think she probably felt the Bible was no longer any good since it was damaged and just simply cut out her own family records to keep. At any rate I have been able to have some of the original records of Hezekiah's and Margaret's family, though not all of them."

History:

Gary Dale Appleby (1993), desc. of Hezekiah and Margaret (Herron) Appleby gives Margaret's maiden name as Mannerly. First time I ever heard of it. However, Margaret may have had an earlier marriage (to Herron or Mannerly?) because she was 26 years old when she married Hezekiah and he was only 21

Children of HEZEKIAH APPLEBY and MARGARET HERRON are:

- i. JOSEPH N.³ APPLEBY⁹, b. Abt. 1824, Tennessee⁹; m. MARTHA KIFER⁹.

RELATIVES

From Gayle Appleby Ledbetter, 6-12-98

"This sounds like my line from here in Texas. James Newton's parents were James Barnett and Eliza Jane Crawford. They were from Washington Co. Arkansas. They were married by the Rev. Andrew Buchanan. Barney was a member of the 34th Arkansas CSA, organized at Mt. Comfort in September 1862. He was described as 'a jolly fellow.'

"My dad, born 1908 in TX, actually knew Barney and was scared of him as a child. He said during the War, Uncle Barney, who was able to do realistic turkey calls, would whistle like a turkey. When Union soldiers, who were hungry, heard the calls they went out into the woods hunting the turkeys. Uncle Barney picked them off, one by one, with his gun. Barney and Eliza are buried in Tuttle, Oklahoma. Barney's dad was Hezekiah Appleby, born 6-22-1798 in Jackson County GA. He married Margaret Herron, b 1793 in Kentucky. Hezekiah is my direct ancestor. Because of trouble at home in Arkansas during the Civil War, Hezekiah left to go to Texas. In 1864, Margaret's house was burned and she rode a horse to Texas but found Hezekiah had died. She died the next year. Hezekiah was a Democrat, Old-School Presbyterian, 'extensive' farmer and stock raiser. In 1863, William Skelton and Hezekiah left with 20 wagons and slaves for Waco. Both died near Waco of typhoid fever. The graves are lost. My grandfather was told by his grandfather that no one knew who Hezekiah's father was other than a 'colt in the woods.' Hezekiah seems to have been raised by William Appleby Jr., a son of William, one of three brothers who came over from Ireland prior to the American Revolution. William fought in the Revolutionary War. His wife was Elizabeth McKeegan. None of this information is guaranteed to be correct, of course. I've got more if you are interested. The Applebys were generally Presbyterians."

In 1999 Gayle writes: "My grandfather was Dick Wood Appleby who came from Arkansas. He lived in Bosque County, where I was born. My dad, David Graham Appleby called your James 'Uncle Jim. Uncle Jim's daughter was Nettie Jane, born 1-13-1895 in Iredell, Bosque County, TX. She is buried in Arlington and died 5-9-1986. She married Albert Julius Kunkel Sr. on 12-15-1916 in Goldthwaite, Mills County, TX. Nettie's dad was James Thomas Appleby, born 1-13-1870 in Washington Co Arkansas. He died 11-4-1953 and is buried at Mt Olivet Cemetery in Fort Worth. I live just south of Fort Worth, in Cleburne. ' (LH: This is confusing because Gayle is writing about a James Appleby and Nettie Appleby that are not in my direct line. These are probably cousins.)

2nd Genforum: "Hezekiah and Margaret were married in Williamson Co, TN 12-2-1819. Margaret believed born in Kentucky."

From Margaret McCleskey, mamccleskey@worldnet.att.net: "Hezekiah Appleby is my direct ancestor also. He and Margaret Herron were married in Tennessee, not Kentucky. Hezekiah's son Andrew Thomas Appleby who married Susan Jane Kifer is my gg grandfather. I've been told Hezekiah's mother was Jane or Jean Appleby, daughter of William Appleby and Margaret McKeegan. Hezekiah's father is unknown. I live in Arlington, Texas."

Sam Hale was a salesman. He sold appliances, sewing machines, etc. He worked for the GM Pfaff Sewing Machine Company long enough to be awarded a very nice silver pocket knife. That's now in the hands of one of his great grandsons. In the family we also have his split bamboo fly fishing rod and reel and some other keepsakes. In late 1950's and early 60's he worked for Leora Feige in her appliance store, in Bishop, CA.

Lyford remembers spending part of several summers with his grandparents in Bishop, California, a High Sierra town famous as a stepping off point for fishing, hiking, and other outdoor adventures. After work most days Sam and grandson would take his faded green 1940's pickup truck down to the Owens River, so they could fish for trout. His idea of fishing was to sit quietly beside the river, drop in a line baited with a red worm, light up a pipe, and wait. Sam also took his grandkids on many a fishing adventure Lake Sabrina and other lakes and streams in the Bishop & Mammoth Lakes areas.

The Hales lived in Bishop in the 1940's and then again in the 50's and 60's. Sam & Nettie made frequent trips to visit family in southern California in the '50's and '60's. Sam would not leave home without a large supply of Bishop water; it's the only water he would drink.

He is buried in Santa Paula Cemetery, California
