Mary Collins (clearly not Samuel's daughter)
McDonald Poe makes a claim that cannot be correct in regard to a possible daughter of Samuel Poe. On page 31 in "Samuel Poe of Essex County", McDonald states that in conjunction to a land transfer from Mathew Collins and wife Mary, to Samuel Poe that "Mary Collins, who could not write, gave Samuel Poe a power of attorney to sign her dowry and homestead, and in all probability was his daughter." Almost certainly this is not the case. First, Samuel was one of the few literate neighbors in the area and he witnessed or signed for several people. The fact that he signed for Mary Collins is not evidence of a kinship.
To put the matter to rest, the record clearly states Mary Collins was the daughter (and heir apparent) of Henry Peters (Peeters, Petars)

Court Orders, pages. 82-83. 6 March 1707 (1708). Matthew Collins of St. Ann's Parish, Essex County, and Mary his wife, only daughter and heir apparent of Henry Peters, late of the said county, deceased, to John Sanders of St. Mary's Parish in said county, planter. For 400 pounds of tobacco.
766 acres in St. Mary's Parish, lying on a swamp called Pewmansend, in two parts, 600 and 166 acres as by deeds made by William Gannocke unto John Sanders 30 May 1706 for 600 acres and 3 May 1707 for 166 acres . . . part of 4200 acres granted unto Henry Peters and John Meaders 17 April 1667.

Goochland County, VA

Formed in 1728 from Henrico County (one of the original shires), it was named for Sir William Gooch, lieutenant-governor in 1727-1749. Its county seat is Goochland. From its original territory came Albemarle Co., Amherst Co., (part of) Appomattox Co., Bedford Co., Buckingham Co., Campbell Co., Cumberland Co., Fluvanna Co., Nelson Co., & Powhatan Co. Parishes: King William Parish (1728-1749); Saint James Northam Parish (1744-), Saint James's Parish (1728- 1744), Saint James Southam Parish (1744-1749)

From "Roots in Virginia," by Nathaniel Clairborne Hale: The planters of old Virginia were the upper crust of colonial society. In the beginning there were the 'ancient planters.' They were defined in the records of the London Co. as those who settled in Virginia at their own expense prior to May of 1616. That was the date of the last 'coming away' of Sir Thomas Dale, the harsh but statesmanlike Governor.

Book: General Gleanings in England, page 147: The Confidence from Southampton, Eng to America in 1638. Among passengers:

John Saunders and John Rolfe. They established the town of Newbury, Mass. Many on the ship were from Co. of Wilts.

The Visitation came to Amer from Co. Wilts in 1623.

Notes for JOHN SANDERS: PUBLIC RECORDS

Cedar Creek Monthly Meeting records are part of the archives of Baltimore Yearly Meeting of Orthodox Friends at Haverford College. Likely explanation for the difficulty finding them is that in 1875 Cedar Creek changed its name to Richmond Monthly Meeting. The records may be catalogued under that name.

Quaker Records of Cedar Creek Monthly Meeting, Virginia 1739-1793

Prior to the formation of Cedar Creek Monthly Meeting, Quakers of this region were considered within the "compass" of Henrico Monthly Meeting. It eventually encompassed Friends living in the counties of Albemarle, Amelia, Bedford, Campbell, Caroline, Charles City, Goochland, Halifax, Hanover, Henrico, Louisa and Orange counties, and Richmond City. Records include marriages, births, and abstracts of the minutes. 2002. 205 pp.

RELATIVES

Hubert Sanders: John moved to NC in 1764.

Eunice Wildman Jorgenson letter to Mildred H. dated 1980: John and Jane Sanders were members of Cedar Creek MM, Hanover Co., VA, and records show he built that church in 1739. In 1764 he moved to Guilford Co NC and was a member of New Garden MM. His will is on file at Guilford Co Court House.

In 1727 he suffered seizure of sundry goods for refusal to bear arms. In 1735 he had his guns seized for failure to pay tithes to the Church of England parrish in Cedar Creek. Again in 1742 he suffered seizure for failure to pay priests wages.

There are records of quite a few of our Hale ancestors being dismissed from the Quaker MM or church for disunity or marrying contrary to discipline.

Jesse, Branson's father, was also dismissed from the church so his birth and death records are not in the record book.

Notes for JANE CREW:

Check this out. Compendium of American Genealogy, Vol VII by Frederick Virkus, page 377, says John Sanders of VA married 1715 Priscilla Pritlow of NC. John has a daughter named Priscilla, but not one named Jane. This John would have been too young to marry in 1715. It may be that his father married Priscilla Pritlow.

Note: There is much confusion between Pritlow and Crews in the marriage of Jess Henley about 15 years later. Henley, Saunders, Pritlow and Crews were all Quakers in the same church or group of churches.

Jesse and Sarah were among the founders of Xenia, Ohio. A place to look for more info is the Waynesville Public Library in Waynesville, Ohio, and Guilford College, in NC.

Ancestry.com's Gene Pool data shows a Jesse Saunders born 1751 in Caroline MM, VA as son of John and Jane Crew Saunders. Who is this Jesse?

According to Hubert Sanders, Branson's grandfather Jesse went to Ohio in 1806.

RELATIVES

Hale family notes say his birthday is the 10th.

Family records refer to him as both Edward Harlan and Edward Henley. Family is related to both Harlans and Henleys, but Sam Hale's birth certificate says his father was Edward Henley Hale.

Hubert Sanders letter to Areatha Hale Wildman has some family background info. LH has a copy of the letter. It says, in part, that:

The Branson Sanders family moved to Kansas in 1868. The Hale and Sanders families moved to Indiana in 1874. Then to Arkansas, then to Bluejacket in the Northeastern part of Oklahoma.

Edward worked on the Indiana farm of John and Rachel Wildman, Uncle Erwin's parents. The first mention of this is in the Wildman's ledger dated 1875. Edward worked on the Wildman farm and was a carpenter during the time the family was living near the Wildman farm in Wabash.

Family moved from Ind. to Ark in 1881 or 1882, staying for about two years. Mary Jane was about 1 1/2 years old when they moved to Cherokee County, Kansas, staying about three years.

In the late 1890's Ed Hale and the older boys went to New Salem in central Oklahoma. They built a house. When finished, Sarah and the other children traveled by train to New Salem. See the certificate of removal above.

From a brother or sister of Sam Hale:

"Don't know just when Father began to try to prove info on his claim (Cherokee)

but it was because of that prospect that we moved to Bluejacket and that was long before March 7, 1907.

In fact, we moved there some time in Nov, I think, and you were born in Feb.; I have just called Beulah to know what she may remember about it, but didn't get any answer."

MISC NOTES / QUESTIONS/ FOLLOWUP

The 1907 lawsuit listed people who believed they were owed money due to Cherokees by the government included John and Anna Henley and Edward Hale, born High Point NC 1-11-1838. This is from the Muskogee Area Office, Muskogee, Ok. 1962. The birthday corresponds to our Edward Henley Hale, but I don't know about John and Anna Henley. This is not proof of Indian heritage, only proof that the relatives believed they were part Cherokee.

Notes for LUTHER EDWARD HALE:
From Christian Church, Tuttle, OK 11-28-03:

I have found out a couple of things for you. The lady that I checked with told me that she would do some more looking. Anyway, she told me that he (Luther) had two daughters. By the church membership records, it was a family of four: Luther Hale, Mrs. L. Hale, Ruby Hale, & Alhie Hale. That last name I spelled exactly as it is in the register. I'm not sure if it is correct spelling or not. I do not see any Appleby's or Hargrave's in the register. She also told me that Mr. Hale was a great builder. In fact, he built a house right next door to where I am living. My parents now own the house that he built and rent it out. It is still standing! Anyway, that is all the information she had off the top of her head. I'll let you know if she comes up with something else if this is your great uncle.
